

APPLICATION FOR ECONOMETRICS LABORATORY STUDENT ACCOUNT

Econometrics Laboratory student accounts are issued to Department of Economics graduate students who are currently registered or who are completing a dissertation with the University of California, Berkeley. Student accounts are issued for one semester and can be extended at the request of the faculty sponsor. All accounts are subject to approval by the Laboratory's Director or Manager. An account is issued to a specific individual who is held responsible for all activity within his/her account and agrees not to allow any other individual to access his/her account. This account cannot be used for any commercial activity where any form of compensation is obtained as a result of the use of this account. Econometrics Laboratory policies apply to all accounts, and acceptance of this account implies acknowledgement and acceptance of all Econometrics Laboratory policies. This account is a privilege and as such can be revoked if misused.

Electronic mail messages arriving into the default incoming mail file should be reviewed periodically. Mail messages older be truncated when the default incoming mail file exceeds 50 Mb, or the account is closed. Files under this account are not personal property; as such, the Econometrics Laboratory reserves the right to review, modify, or delete any file or terminate any activity that may interfere with the operations or security of the Econometrics Laboratory.

Information regarding specific Econometrics Laboratory policies and rules is available online (refer to "help rules"). All questions should be addressed to the Manager of the Econometrics Laboratory in room 649 Evans Hall (642-0619).
